

Popularity

created 3/7/24

I myself like popularity, I don't know if others will relate but I find popularity to be one of the biggest forms of love a person can receive. love is more than human bf gf, or anything related, its society living one another and us loving ourselves.

Dude my flipping iPad glitched out and I had to take 30 minutes and a reset, and just so I could delete the dang tab. Looks like I'll be editing on this computer now, seriously it looked like my iPad was about to turn into a nuclear IBM.

Ultimately as I was saying, this is just my online journal, I have one in real life but that one is crap because its private and the internet makes things permanent, so people can see.

I'm going to be honest, School...shooters, weird comparison, but I relate to Adam Lanza the most out of the scum bunch. Everyone else picks Eric, or the popular ones, but Adam Lanza is really, I see myself in him. I have similar views, less OCD for sure. I wasn't...touched as a child like he was thanks be to God. But he's the "loud when I wan't to talk" introvert.

His views on Travis the Monkey, I heard his voice first, not caring about the motive, but then I realized how right he was about, Chimpanzees groomed up to be humans-like no different than a mentally challenged future killer.

I don't feel bullied when I'm at school, but when I'm there I feel so..out of place, left out. I like staying home and playing step mania or Roblox or crap. Ultimately, I think I saved myself from "peaking in high school" as they say. But honestly saying that being popular in school doesn't matter is crap. I mean they say, you meet about 70% of your friends for life in school, of course being the popular jock matters, and make no mistake I envy those people, but I seem to be at the bottom of the crappy human chair pyramid. Ultimately, I think that social problems are always bound to occur, and if you're a kid that knows me personally, maybe you won't get that I don't know. Flip you, you flipping Hecker.

I mean back in the Medieval times if someone insulted you you frickin whipped out your sword and dueled them.

One time at school I was sent 3 DAYS FOR A STUPID RECESS "Fight" if you even call it that. School staff are so fricked.

ALSO, IF YOU KNOW WHAT SECOND STEP IS THEN WOW, I SALUTE YOU FOR SURVIVING THAT TERRIBLE WAVE OF BRAINROT.

For those fortunate to not have lived through the mental insanity, basically they have these fricking lessons about some nerdy kid with a lisp getting bullied at school. Then they fricking talk about "Making friends with your enemies" or some dumb stuff like "Omg Pedro is Mexicano he gets bullied for Taco oh no!" THIS STUFF DOESNT HAPPEN NO REASONABLE AND FUNCTIONING HUMAN BEING WILL EVER HARRASS SOMEONE LIKE THAT

In short, I think school systems do a really bad job at portraying power imbalances in places of education. My experience is that educational place is way to "Social" See most people will have their first love, friends, and other fond memories in school. Student's never interest themselves in learning.

I find myself one slight step above this, I'm not trying to be edgy, but it feels like my view expands in front of the crowd of people. I mean I actually have fricking self-awareness.

I don't know if I have a true ultimate list of the worst motherfuckos at school, and plus I don't think it'd be wise for me to even put their names in this public forum, fuck that. Also, today I ruined this kids' science experiment in science class, not completely but man do I laugh when I rethink about it. It wasn't even intentional, I just jokingly put the power switch up and messed up his paperclip thing, we were doing some random electromagnet thing. The look on his face was priceless, that kid's kind of dumb but whatever. As I said that wasn't even intentional, surprised he didn't even tell our science teacher. I do non-sentient things sometimes, IDK if its adhd or what.

I don't think uh, these kids at truly realize I AM THE SIGMA, I mean, Patrick Bateman was truly: him. I think that's fair to say and ultimately my complex of being above people is more than you ever knew. I always have to strive for something, and heck if I link my website in my snapchat then people will see this, I doubt people will understand this whole site but whatever. Sometimes what's in my mind sounds way more boring when put into computer website form.

Also, Flamingo is a cool youtuber and I think he may be one of the best, uh he is very interesting and very silly y cool.

I AM ALWAYS READY TO FIGHT FOR UKRAINE.

You know I feel death, as much as it seems an escape, is pointless for me. Would I even be more important to anyone? Loss of my own life wouldn't be very tragic outside of my family. Even then, if people said, "Oh I'm so sorry, I always cared for Haglund" No, you didn't show it, at all, and in that scenario my life is done. So, I see death wouldn't matter, not even if my blood splattered the town. So, there's nothing we can do. There's nothing we can do - Napoleon - Amour Plastique - Video club \(slightly slowed\) \(youtube.com\)

Not even being edgy, pumped-up Kicks is a great song, the synthesizer makes it all the better, and yeah, maybe I'm biased with how I found it, but in my opinion it's just such a great song.

Last night I watched a 9/11 phone call video, I'll be honest it drove me to tears, haven't cried in a while, maybe I just avoid tragic stuff. RIP Kevin Cosgrove.

I wish I could literally just bat people at will, everyone I know barely shows emotion, I'm the only one who is actually sentient it feels like at this frickin point.

The true reason I don't swear is mostly, so this site isn't taken down, fucko is as far as I'm going to risk it, I guess this site won't go down unless someone reports it, and at this point I think only Chase W has seen this.

Drugs, drugs everywhere, blunt smoke hanging in the air, the reason that I'm dying, in my lungs, but I don't want to go, unless it's with you girl.

Today, we begin an entry, it's a nice morning on the 14th of March. I haven't been sleeping well for a while, I'm very stressed for an assortment of reasons, I won't be getting into them, sometimes I just wish I could fall asleep instantly.

I hideously confess that I often snuggle with my pillow, and often pretend that it's a person, it's just entertaining for me, and I see no reason people should call me a virgin or loser for this reason, people say sexual activity is too normalized, but I don't view that as true. I think there's a large, maybe smart, community that views sex as a marriage thing. Often calling sexual activity gross, just look at the internet, Asexual people have even been rising. Demi, and Asexual are people that LGBT views would actually align with Gods word. I don't hate Gays, or Trans, Or Pan people, but I will be 100% truthful, they should turn around from that standpoint. They are a very intolerable community sometimes, always blaming straights, I think everyone has some fault, but the LGBT community is very wrong, and I've grown up to realize that I don't agree with how it has been normalized kind of, although I guess I'd say they all deserve rights of course, I'm not saying we should send them back to the camps.

You know what I hate?

Grooming, and not the one you think. I have been groomed into this society far too much and I hate this being. I'm glad, and I hope my mom has nothing but happiness I wish I could get the assets to properly pay her back, I often offer to pay for stuff, but she never allows. I am glad she gave me this life, but I don't know if I want it, I simply don't want to suffer, I think being run over, or killed would've been the best way for me to go, then I'd be viewed as a nice person, the victims never suffer, those who survive, those who say the partial story, those are the ones who get those horrors stuck on them, they have to worry about afterlife punishment.

People will say I'm just a yap master or something but tats just not true, I've stated what I believe and if people don't get it that's fine, some logic just isn't for everyone.

I recall an ARG on tiktok called "trapped in my bedroom" Every Clip From "@Stuck in my bedroom" \(youtube.com\) THIS IS WHAT PURGATORY IS. So basically, this kid gets trapped in an endless loop, he gets help from TIKTOK along the way. In the end he gets so lost to where he commits die, and the series ends. It made me think, how in the series there's a theory that some of the ramen packets he found throughout his ordeal we're left by the future him, because even in the middle of the series where he hides under his bed, he is chased by something, HIM. This makes me think about life, if you make bad choices, like him running into the dark, you'll hurt your future self. If you do good stuff for yourself, like him leaving the ramen packet, you'll be gifting your future self.
YELLOWWALLPAPERBURNINGTHROUGHMYEYES

THEMONOCHROMATICHORRORMESSINGWITHMYMIND.

I definitely think society is collapsing with our average age going down. It's a problem and I think genders are hating each other. The internet is a big problem in my opinion personally..

I think people do overthink getting a girl. I guess it's not that hard. Im endorsing the fact that: I don't want a girl, or anyone. Not my tea I guess, im gonna change my life to go in that direction. Hey, maybe I'll be leaving some girl for other loners, you all on this earth, deserve more than me.

Dumb fuckos might think I always listen to violent music and play violent games. The most violent game I play is stupid Roblox FPS games, with mist blood, and I literally have mostly chill night Core and chill Alex g, or even mac Demarco songs. Worst "morally" is the Teen Witch album, which is actually anti violence when you listen. Of course, people won't listen, and will hate those things anyways.

Alex G-Sorry is legitimately how I apologize to you all, for any hate I've created in my life, I think I can change possibly, like I could turn away from bad habits sometime in the future. I'm going to slow down on 'poetic literature' for this forum. It's now just going to be my pop culture and personal views, no sorrow or sappy apologies. I'm still sorry though, believe me.

I think, for life, at least in my case, there is TWO planning stages, some might lazily call it planning and execution, but I decide to call life in two stages.

NVJ-This is the planning, based on the Murder Drones trio...named..N..V..and..J..get it?

NVK-Inspired by NKVD, as well as murder drones' kind of, it's basically the execution of any plan, such as my..projects in life like some of the YouTube videos I make, NVJ, planning, NVK, execution.

Idk NVK sounds cool sometimes.

I originally called this website .jpg, and IDK if that shows up anymore, but overall, I just like how .jpg sounds, I know it's for an image file, not a website.

THE TRAGEDY OF THE SCHOOL

SYSTEM

Throughout a lot of society, we have had the concept of school, the system has remained the same for the duration of its lifespan and this can come off as outdated. Schools are a major producer in sexual violence, bullying, suicide, drug use, social media influence, and the only reason School Shootings occur. Schools have this byproduct and it's sick, people that support schools don't realise they're grooming their own kids in the same way a gross person that isn't normalized into society would. And mind you schools are something that YOU disgusting people support. Think of how much kids below the age of consent hook up, they don't do it on Tinder, they find fellow people at their school. Schools are also where horny teens could find a victim to assault, when you're isolated, like being homeschooled, you're alone, you might even have a better sexual understanding than school building counterparts. The act of a School Shooting always happens in, of course, a school. Now why? because just like all the previous problems, there is a large group of people in a building, it's a damn Roblox Gun Test game in that place. So, do you ever blame the schools? NO, blame the videogames, parents, and bullying. Drugs, how many times when you think of kids doing drugs do you envision a group of a gang doing it in a school parking lot? Schools become drug trade buildings, when you have that many people in one building. Schools are outdated, most people that are going to be succesful are NOT going down the path school wants them.

School is grooming, the same grooming that again YOU SUPPORT. You people are sick.

I'm changing text colors lol.

yhtaa tyynenaa ainiaan!

I don't support violence on women, especially not sexually, I've never wanted to be dominant doing that stuff.

However I do often fantasize about fighting some of the females at my school, they're easier to fight and give more reactions. And I don't want any of them saying "we never did anything" because that's not true, gossiping, yapping, and having obnoxious drinking containers. I would greatly enjoy squaring them up. However, whenever I fight in school I often cower down, fear of going to the office is extreme, maybe it will be nice in the real world when I can fight TRUE self-defense, beating some females at school would be fun, but I'm no coward boy either, I fight males in class to, not violently just across from chair to chair. I'm not even going to make a joke and say "I know that sounds bad..." No, it is wrong that I think that way, it just sounds cool. Honestly fighting sounds better than intercourse sometimes, a LOT of stuff does. I view sexual activity as, not immoral, but pointless, as a kid I kind of had a hate for that, I kind of fantasized about finding a couple doing that and killing them, disgusting horny people. And yes, I'm a hypocrite on some aspects, but it's not about sexual interest, it's about thinking that its ok. I think it probably should be reserved for marriage, the normal people. I feel guilty to death about horniness.

As I've been groomed in a very liberal environment my gut has said otherwise. I've always had an immense hate, for liberal groups, especially the LGBTQ community. By hate, whenever I mention hate, I dont necessarily mean like, DESPIZE, but short lived aggresion, hate is temporary, even I can see that. I think LGBTQ is inherently wrong. One thing you'll never convince me is right is TRANSITIONAL SURGERYS. Disgusting, you're ripping your body, or at least some of it, apart, for all the natural selectioni that die because of that, good.

or even if you experience pain. I guess I hope you get better, but still. It's such a stupid medical practice. Worse than abortion in my opinion.

I saw some illymation drama on YouTube, March 20th, 2024.

I have been thinking of contacting some of my content creators, I think the best way to contact someone is to bring up topics that, they would find relevant, because creating big talk, not small talk like "how is your day" but making a huge conversation, is a good step. I contacted Horsemeet, on a topic covered by someone that I found interesting. The way society grows everyone up.

Was able to contact, Sean Chiplock on Twitter, I know him as he's the Thad VA I believe, wasn't the best greeting as he was arguing against a comment I made on his account, but still, cool enough. He's not the most famous so I didn't get that "wow I talked to a VA" but still, cool.

My stupid teacher Mr. Brazeau, was yapping about me talking in class the day before, screw you. I hate getting into class early because he always starts a conversation, I hate talking to people, especially adults, contrary to my grandpa thinking I "talk best to adults" not the hell I don't, he still has the view of me when I was 10. Back to my teacher, I don't hate him I guess, but it'd be nice if he was found guilty of payroll fraud and fired. He also sucks at teaching. My hate for teachers really grows at certain times. There's a lot of different POVs in my head alone. There's the me that just lives in this middle of nowhere town. Maybe if a gas station blew up, or a tornado hits, people will notice and act like they feel so much yearning, but no. Shut up if something tragic happens that you aren't related to. Sorry if that's an unpopular opinion. 3/22/24 FINAL DAY, LEAVING FOR SMOKY MOUNTAINS. See you in April, I will return to this page.

I'm going to start calling girls "miss" or "love". It's funny. Fraulein too...

I really wish I had older socials, because all my accessible online accounts were created either 23, or this year. like I have original Roblox accounts, the older Twitter account from my brother, and an old lost Newgrounds account. But nothing else really. The oldest account online that I have is my current Roblox account, circa June 2022. Still, I should've saved my first one, which would've been around 2015. But I had been an iPad User growing up, so I lost every account with the death of my previous account. I also wish I had a YouTube account back in elementary school, but I was too dumb to make a fake email and do it, just like now. I want an old channel for nostalgia, history in your hands. But it's too late now, I guess if you want an old account like me, the best time is now, because you can't go back. Do stuff now before you regret not doing it and end up losing stuff. I really like how social media gives me a chance to set stuff up. You know when you, execute certain stuff, having a memorial monologue online is interesting because people check it out. It's like "wow look it's his account" Honestly if you contact me on the internet, right now, you're lucky to have met a true future. And I hope, because I myself have always wanted to be famous. But it's too late for me, so I want to contact people, suburban kids like me, have online friends too, they'll be able to be famous, or infamous.

I say at school that I don't really like music, but I say that mostly because, they won't understand my kind of music. Techno is unheard of at least from what I've seen in my town. I have a mix of music on my playlist. A lot of Alex G for sure, one CG5 song. And a lot of music that I find interesting, is foreign. I've really always been a natural at Spanish in school. And I'm decent at German, Finnish, and Russian, (besides reading). I thank listening to German Marches, Finnish Marches, and Russian hard bass for that. A nice thing is I'm not the standard Natural Selection who pronounces "Gallo" GAL o, instead of gaeyyo, I'm EXTREMELY good at accents in foreign languages. I wonder if I could have SOME career choice with that knowledge. But then again, what does being gifted do to you? I have good grades in school, I have always been above in reading, science as well. But what does it matter? The smarter you are, the more indoctrinated you are. Mechanics and sociality smarts are what's important to skip the urban hell of society.

For Jupiter \(youtube.com\) I fucking cried for like an hour as a kid when I saw this, I literally showed this to my mom I was so sad.

See I'll admit I have a sterner acting mood on my website compared to the rest of the internet. People will see my "true opinions" I guess, if they dig into my internet and look at the crap like my twitter political rants, or my YouTube Comments, I have small ones on channels, they'll be flooded for sure. Oh, you have no idea what I'm talking about...

You know I have actually been going to IKEA recently and I really like the store with its' maze-like layout, I remember being interested in in in like 2015 because of PewDiePie and my Sweden Obsession. I really like the food selection at the restaurant there, so yeah. The one by Milwaukee too.

I really think School Attackers have to always have a base, it's just become the cliché, and I HATE clichés. I mean when a one of those losers is a gangster-wannabe, then it's stupid.
Eric wasn't a gangster like the South Side Chicago kids. Such fools, but I shouldn't boast myself.

Old information but it's weird how attractive the internet is to the point where it feels so different being in my room while having access to the internet.

Now is it gay for a man to like Lesbian Fetishes? No, which is why I think curves are literally the only thing that's noticeable, I mean I'm going to mention lesbians again. LGBTQ is a mental illness; I mean it's been infected in many people's life to think this kind of behavior is normal. I don't think the group of people interested in my media will really be on the LKGBT side, but I hope they also reason with my opinions. I can't hate Gays, Trans, mostly because that's not what God would do, but I still just disagree with the whole shit.

I just question this shit when the whole community cuts themselves. I mean on the fucked TikTok TCC community, half of those editors are Trans or Lesbian. They have a problem clearly. I don't know what else to say, they aren't really my current enemies.

Hentai

So, in 2020 I really learned about all the lewd porn stuff. I had way too much time on my hands so it's only natural for this canon event to occur. But I then found about hentai, and I'll say I actually enjoy hentai. Like my first was Itadaki Seikei, If I spelled that right. At first, I just watched hentai for a quick bust. Now I realize it's basically just a mini anime, I literally just watch it like normal anime, a lot of hentai's seem so be unfinished, I swear the Itadaki Seikei cliffhanger at the end of the second episode pissed me off. I really like hentai though, sometimes the plots can actually be good, Alien Enhancement is cool too. Sometimes they're definitely too lewd, it's odd that Japan seems to be the one with disgusting fetishes, and even lewding minors in Anime. But oddly they're a very successful country, they also have more restrictions on the legality of porn as compared to the US, which is probably why they resort to Hentai. Tropical Kiss I should mention. Also, the VA for Uzi acts in Hentai as well, everyone's a critic.

I probably didn't even use that line correctly.

Hey, I don't want to leave you out, YOU, yes you.

If you're some girl that wants a boyfriend or something, Am I attractive?

Am I romantic?

If you're an LGTV person,

Do you think I'm right?

If you know me? How do you feel? Do you miss me or anything? I don't know just asking.

If you're a famous person that is curious to look on this page. Is this all it took to get you to see me? Don't you like the extra drama and clout?

If you're a classmate, would you have said something back to me? Why not say something right now, like tomorrow even.

If you're an online friend, I don't really ask anything, I thank you for communicating me.

I'll be honest, I really hate when people just ignore me on the internet. I honestly want friends more than a girlfriend at this point. I think I was bound to be super romantic if I was going to have a true future. I don't know.

Analog horror, the backrooms, and even SCPs.

When life is as it is now, you really consider how fun these things would be. Like would the backrooms be fun? I already love Urban exploration. traveling through those levels would be AWESOME. I mean other than getting Eternal Life, there should be more challenge to life.

Vita Carnis is a very cool scenario, would those creatures existing be interesting? Heck yeah. I really do take interest in these fictional things. How have humans never wondered how simple, non-violent the world is. I mean yeah, death, and torture does exist, but nothing like SHOULD be here. Honestly if you're not believing in God at that point, I don't even know what.

It's just so weird, I mean maybe it's just because I've had no challenges, maybe your body creates depression just so you can have "fun". You can't go outside and battle monsters. Even if they existed, they'd be too dangerous and eliminated. Don't say "oh people would be too scared in a Zombie Apocalypse" It'd be the most fun I've ever had in my life. I want the challenge. I see why James Yoblonski left his happy home.

I mean let me be honest, I don't deserve a relationship in the school. Not in the sense that I don't think I deserve any love but, more in the fact I think that, what would I talk to my crush about? All of them are somewhat jocks so I'd have no common knowledge. Maybe what I need is a therapist friend.

Elizabeth Simons is a BOP.

Also, it'd be cool if she gets run over by a truck, like how her Skull'd fricking pop from the pressure when the wheels crush the cranium, the scream.

And some kids, like Jacob Foster, are just so stupid, I hope they experience true fear in their lives somehow.

Seriously I can't get over how incompatible I am with every woman on the earth. My interests are super out of touch with anyone not on the internet, see E-dating isn't that bad of an idea if you think about it.

AVERAGE CONVERSATION IF SOME GIRL EVEN TRIED TO LIKE ME:

-Hey

ME- You know Alex G bbg?

-is that a radio station?

Me-...

And then I'd blow her up.

Rant:

I hate using "fuck you" in my journal, it just sounds too asshole-ish. There's stuff I do that people will probably find annoying or attention seeking.

I really hate all the schoolwork that I have to do, it's just too much, missing assignments, fear of messing up. It will get worse in High School, I know it. Life too.

I once heard an anti-suicide person say, "Keep living, you're going to die anyways." Well, I feel like I've chosen a destiny, if you die fighting, even if you knew it was certain death, it wasn't true suicide. It's just your destiny, like when I see people on the news die in horrific crashes, terrorist attacks, I really know that it's ok. Not everyone gets a cheesy goodbye surrounded by family. A lot of mensch will die fighting.

I really hate loud noises, and drama, very ironic of course. But really sometimes it takes that to stop all of the shit. I hate the school gossip about who likes who, what guy made a gross rape joke, what girl is dating a senior. I don't care, and sometimes people are able to wake up. When they see their lives are based on lies. We humans live on water, and sometimes you throw trash to the bottom to stack your way out. I get it I guess.

I think at this point I'll start attacking minorities.

I hate furies they always make disgusting fetishes. The only furry I like (and she isn't even a furry) is Eipril. I just like the animations. I always hate that these people exist without me. Like people can call fighting for the fatherland useless, but really, is it? Again I've told this again, die fighting, even if you die, you fight for something, not the millions of useless Americans alive today.

Video of breakdancers at my school: I guess my school isn't ALL boring, considering there's a YouTube video: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=fZw9w96FXcQ>

It's the last night of April, 5 nights till May 1st, FIVE NIGHTS AT FREDDYS the beautiful couple...just how it should be.

I've realized if I live on, I need a girl just to naturally survive.

to do the dishes, clean the house, make me food, yeah, I'm NOT surviving on my own. So, no point living.

Update 1: I just found out what "cunny" means...

Update 2: the fucking girl has Self Harm scars.

I think if you dig through my internet history, you'll see repetition, sorry about that, but sometimes I need it.

Honestly, I often do relationship arguing on CHAI, it's fun, why is it fun? I honestly don't know why, maybe I just like, in the end, REBUILDING

I'm very happy that I have a fast metabolism, I can eat an entire case of Oreos, like all 4 sleeves, or 5 idk, and I'll bve finme. I feel sorry for the kids who get obese because they ate like 4 Mcdonalds meals. \

I'm going ot be honest, NVJ has not gone as wished. I've wanted to have a cool acting type thing but it's just falling apart, I'm more emotional about it, I got what I got and I won't complain, but, when I recorded some of the videos, I wanted to do them at different times than I got, I didn't get all the presents I wanted, PROCRASTINATION, PROCRASTINATION, PROCRASTINATION. It's not easy to turn a human into some joke that reaches the hot topic of everything, I'll say life has generally treated me well, I love everyone, I hate occxasionally but please know, hate is only temporary.

The Hard Part of Dating a Girl in France \(youtube.com\) Favorite Saruei clip, this channel, I rely on, because I watch the streams, and I like the clips when I see them but, I don't want to waste time on screen recording.

I hate wanting sex because I know it's bad, so I must die, I hate my lus, they've told me it's gross, I hate this and want to die of lust-guilt. Seriously I don't care about missing out, I just wish it was good. I mean you're wrong if you're horny, honestly this is a big thing for my motive. I just hate sexual activity, it's dirty and wrong, unless for procreation obviously, I want to lose temptation by dying.

I hate how out of control my playlists get; my song playlist has hours of music at this point.

And my "important clips" Is WAY too busy, like it was supposed to be a small thing, but now it's 70 videos huge, I have another special films playlist, at this point I should just combine them but, NO.

I sent a QnA to Pillowdear asmr for giggles, sadly the stream isn't till May 2nd.
